Down went Alice, never once considering how in the world she was to get out again.

A

small child unsuspectingly opens his eyes. He does not know he must scorn others whose race, creed, or color differ from his own. He does not know he must conceal his true feelings. He does not know he must master the arts of hypocrisy or mendacity.

His education has begun. It is more than the study of language and nature. It is an endless process which teaches him to reason — as society reasons. He must be trained to adjust to life. His mind is being molded.

In recent years, youth have grown to find themselves in a “wonderland” where actions seem pointless or stupid; thoughts, senseless or dull. Following the path of the white rabbit, the path of generosity and candor, has become a rugged challenge. Too often youth have given up. Too often they have joined the rat race.

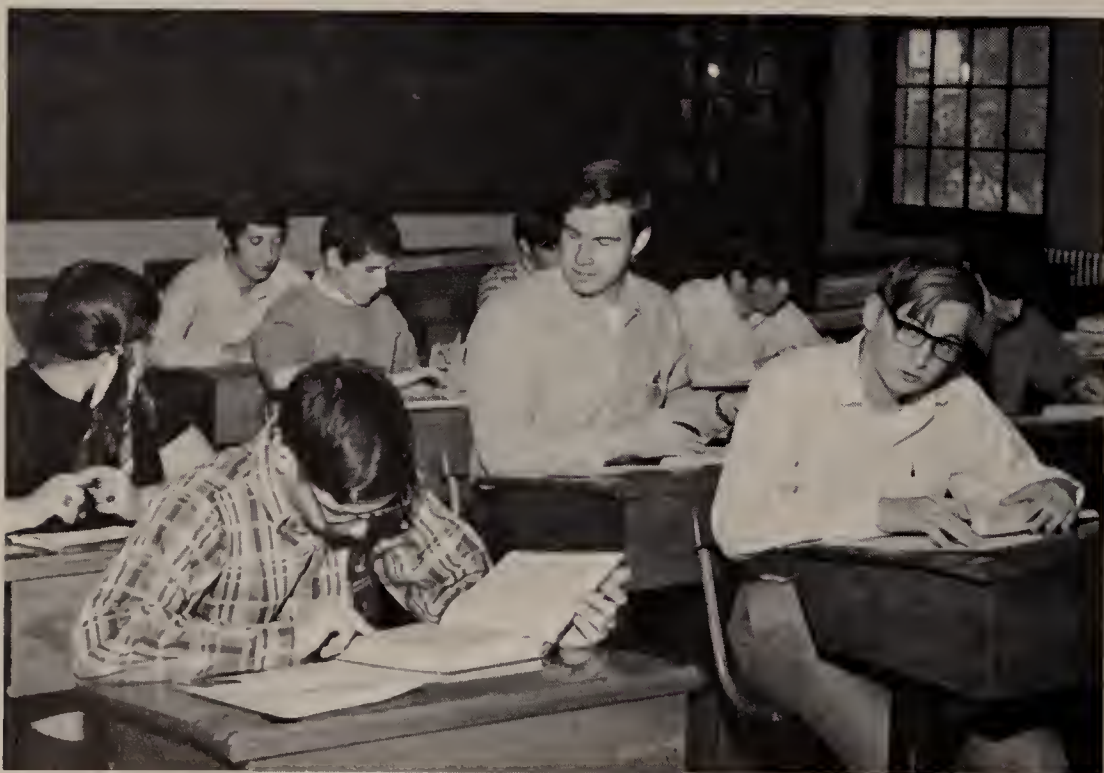

This rebellious generation has refused to conform. The youth of today have refused to allow the inhabitants of the “wonderland” to warp their minds. This generation is determined to follow the white rabbit out of the “wonderland”.

To The Members of the Class of 1970:

Congratulations! The doors are opening upon a new phase of life for you. Our hopes and our prayers go with you as you step across the threshold into a life of studies, of work, and of responsibilities to your family and to your country.

As you look to the future remember your parents, your teachers, and all others who have unselfishly helped you, and be ever mindful that in a free society with privilege goes responsibility.

May success continue to be yours!

Nathan T. Margolis

Headmaster

It has been my good fortune to have had the cooperation and good will of the Class of 1970 for the past three years. In turn, I have done my utmost to help make this one of the best graduating classes in the history of Chelsea High School.

In these days of dissent and protest, it is rewarding to have been an integral part of a class that believed in respect for one's parents, teachers, and fellow-classmates.

It is my earnest hope that the members of the Class of 1970 will prosper and succeed in their individual endeavors. Godspeed!

Edward V. Brown

Master

I wish to congratulate each graduate and forward my sincere praise to your self sacrificing parents. The attainment of your high school diploma and what it represents was made possible by your cooperative effort with an understanding and devoted faculty. I urge each one of you to promote more understanding in your daily living and hope everyone will be an active, participating member of a dynamic and challenging society.

Administration Assistants

Highly trained, efficient, and very presentable, Mrs. Mary Sullivan, administrative assistant, is of distinct service in the smooth functioning of the entire school system.

Mrs. Mary E. Sullivan

Miss B. Claire Forbes

While at the High School two patient, industrious, and conscientious ladies, Miss Claire Forbes and Miss Genevieve Piontek, are performing a similar service for Mr. Margolis and Mr. Brown.

And she thought to herself, "I wish the creatures wouldn't be so easily offended!"

"Everybody says 'come on!' here," thought Alice. "I never was so ordered about before, in all my life, never!"

If one only knew the right way to change them.

If you're going to turn into a pig, my dear,
I'll have nothing more to do with you.

I couldn't afford to learn it. I only took the regular course.

Junior Prom

The most important social event of our junior year was the Prom held on April 18, 1969, at the Polish-American Veteran's Hall. This proved to be an evening of flowers, gowns, dancing and unforgettable memories. The music was provided by Frank Pedi and his orchestra, and Greek dances were taught to the students. The highlight of the evening was the selection of a splendid court with Donna Levy as Queen.

Thanksgiving Rally

Rousing cheers by the cheerleaders and the majorettes, skits by the pep club and football team, and spirited selections by Mr. Ottavi's colorful band stimulated the enthusiasm of the student body during the Thanksgiving Rally preceding our annual Chelsea-Everett game. Especially when the burly members of our football team appeared dressed as cheerleaders and majorettes, the auditorium rang with howling, whistling and applause. For spirit and unquenchable optimism, this year's Thanksgiving Rally will be remembered as the most enjoyable assembly of our senior year.

Christmas — Chanukah Program

CHRISTMAS-CHANUKAH PROGRAM

Nothing so heartwarming to the ecumenical spirit as our Christmas-Chanukah program. Beautiful Christmas Carols by the band, under the direction of Dr. Ottavi, put the audience in a festive mood, while ancient Chanukah songs by the Glee Club under the leadership of Mr. Toltz added a touch of nostalgia. Both moods imparted to the audience a spirit of brotherhood and love. Thus filled with the best of all possible human feelings we adjourned for our annual Christmas-New Year's vacation.

Dinner-Dance

The social life of our senior year was enhanced by a dinner dance held at the Chalet D'Or on January 23, 1970. Seventy-five couples attended, enjoyed a hearty meal and danced to the music of Utopia. Everybody present felt it was a most enjoyable and memorable evening.

Student Government Day

For the fifteenth consecutive year, the students of Chelsea High have shown the adults of Chelsea how the city should be run. Under the leadership of Mr. Leader and Mr. Berenson, the Chelsea High Seniors took over the offices of the city on February 25, 1970. After a tour of the Chelsea Public Library with Mr. Minandakis, Head Librarian, and a luncheon served by the Chelsea Lodge of Elks, the various student-officials really went to work. All who witnessed their accomplishments will have to admit that in all its history the City of Chelsea has never been run so smoothly and efficiently as on this one glorious day.

Audio-Visual Club

Audio-Visual Club

The boys in the Audio-Visual Club, guided by Mr. Roman Pucko, are very helpful to the teachers in running filmstrips and obtaining the necessary equipment to make their classes more informative and enjoyable. C.H.S. students are grateful to them for helping to make hours of Classroom routine so much brighter and more interesting.

Glee Club

Making Chelsea High a little more musical, is the melodious Glee Club, under the skillful direction of Mr. Alvin Toltz. The Glee Club, composed of talented sophomores, juniors, and seniors, meets twice a week to rehearse for its up-and-coming musical productions, which always prove to be enjoyable. Maybe some year we will produce another St. Paul's Cathedral choir — Who can tell?

The Beacon is something that we will all cherish for the rest of our lives. It is the product of the efforts of many Chelsea High School students: writers, editors, artists, photographers, typists, etc. Mr. Maurice Greenfield and Mr. Robert O'Brien, the advisors, with the help of the Yearbook editors, have co-ordinated these efforts to make this year's Beacon a thing to be remembered.

Something we will all cherish for the rest of our lives.

The Beaconette

The Beaconette is the Chelsea High School magazine, or newspaper, published three or four times annually. It reports school news, sports, and anything of interest to the high school students. There are many features in it, as well as editorials, and book or movie reviews. The Beaconette has a regular staff and editors who write and arrange the material, collect advertisements, and distribute it in the homerooms.

In addition to the regular staff all Chelsea High School students are invited to contribute their talents in order to help make the Beaconette a worthwhile publication.

Latin Club

One of the most interesting groups in Chelsea High School is the Latin Club, under the able leadership of Miss Marilyn Glover. The members of this club show their exuberance for Latin by attending plays, planning parties, and dressing in Roman costumes. With such lively programs, let it not be said that Latin is a dead language at Chelsea High School.

German Club

Ach du lieber Himmel! When it comes to German culture, food, dress, and song, the German Club, under the supervision of Mr. Norman Finklestein, is one which is hard to beat. There is always something exciting in it regarding German History or landscape. The aim of this group is to interest its members in German life and in Germany as a remarkable nation. East or West, come one, come all, you'll find no "dividing wall" between you.

You will belong to the German Club and you will enjoy it!

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, under the direction of Mrs. Frances Montesano, learns through filmstrips and dialogues the customs of the Spanish-speaking countries.

These senores and senioritas have absorbed a great deal of Spanish culture through this club. When they graduate, they will be staunch supporters of the O.A.S. against Fidel Castro.

GAT CLUB

The GAT Club is comprised of only those select students who have excelled in mathematics. Mrs. Alice Sandberg supervises these students who recognize the importance of mathematics in our modern society. The purpose of the GAT Club is to foster an appreciation for mathematics, and if the enthusiasm of its members is any indication, then it is obviously succeeding.

Honor Society

Who ever thought there would be so many "Einsteins," "Schweitzers," and "Madame Curies" in C.H.S.? Well, there are, and as a result of this, the Honor Society was formed to publicize these notable individuals. Under the direction of Mr. Henry McKenna, this club is one of the most distinguished organizations in our school. Its members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. We feel that the Chelsea High School Honor Society will maintain its high level of achievement in the years to come.

Whether it be of clerical nature or not, these capable girls are always present to carry out their duties as office aides. Adding to the atmosphere as well as to the efficiency of our administration, these girls are very dependable.

Traffic Squad

Traffic Squad

A school the size of Chelsea High needs a Traffic Squad. Under the supervision of Mr. Gilbert Cherry, the Traffic Squad has been a great help in maintaining decorum in the corridors. The squad takes turns in groups of two or three outside the office each period and keeps a smiling but watchful eye on their classmates as they march from one class to another.

Senior Council

Headed by our president, Charles Sherman, the senior council had a successful year in planning the senior class activities. These individuals shouldered the responsibilities of their respective offices and undertook the preparation for our reception, dinner dance, variety show, and graduation. Together with the efforts of the class advisors, Mr. Vincent Appuzzese and Mr. James Barooshian, they have made our last year at CHS a memorable one.

Student Advisory

STUDENT ADVISORY BOARD

The Student Advisory Board, newly formed this year, is a twenty-member board elected by the student body to meet regularly with the Chelsea School Committee on matters concerning the ideas and feelings of the student body. The Advisory Board has no officially delegated powers, but it has the potential to initiate much needed change and improvement in the future.

GUIDANCE

The Guidance Department, headed by Mr. Eli Richman, is assisted most capably by Mrs. Katherine Berenson, Mr. Joseph Moran, and our new and most welcome addition, Mr. Irving Schwartz.

The students seek help, and find it in most of the academic and personal problems that they encounter.

Also, several very helpful girls act as aides to our counselors in any capacity needed to facilitate their work for the benefit of all our students.

Everything's got a moral if only you can find it.

And the moral of that is — "Oh, 'tis love, that makes the world go round!"

Somebody said that it's done by everybody minding their own business!

Ah well! It means much the same thing. And the moral of that is — "Take care of the sense, and the sounds will take care of themselves."

And the moral of that is — "The more there is of mine, the less there is of yours."

And the moral of that is — "Be what you would seem to be" — or, if you'd like to put it more simply — "Never imagine yourself not to be otherwise than what it might appear to others that what you were or might have been was not otherwise than what you had been would have appeared to them to be otherwise."

"That's nothing to what I could say if I chose," the Duchess replied, in a pleasant tone.

FOOTBALL

This year's C.H.S. football team played against some of the best teams in Massachusetts. Despite a disappointing win-loss record, Coach Anthony Tiro's team played superbly with outstanding performances by many individual players. The C.H.S. Co-Captains Barney Nugent, William Moore and Billy Caputo, inspired the team with enthusiasm and determination. Against great odds each week the team went out on the field and played with undying zeal and courage.

HOCKEY

Under the expert coaching of Mr. James Stafford, the 1969-70 Red Devils' Hockey team was one of the best in recent CHS history. Led by captain, Steve MacDonald, the team has not only made hockey a popular sport in Chelsea High, but has become a formidable opponent to all comers as well.

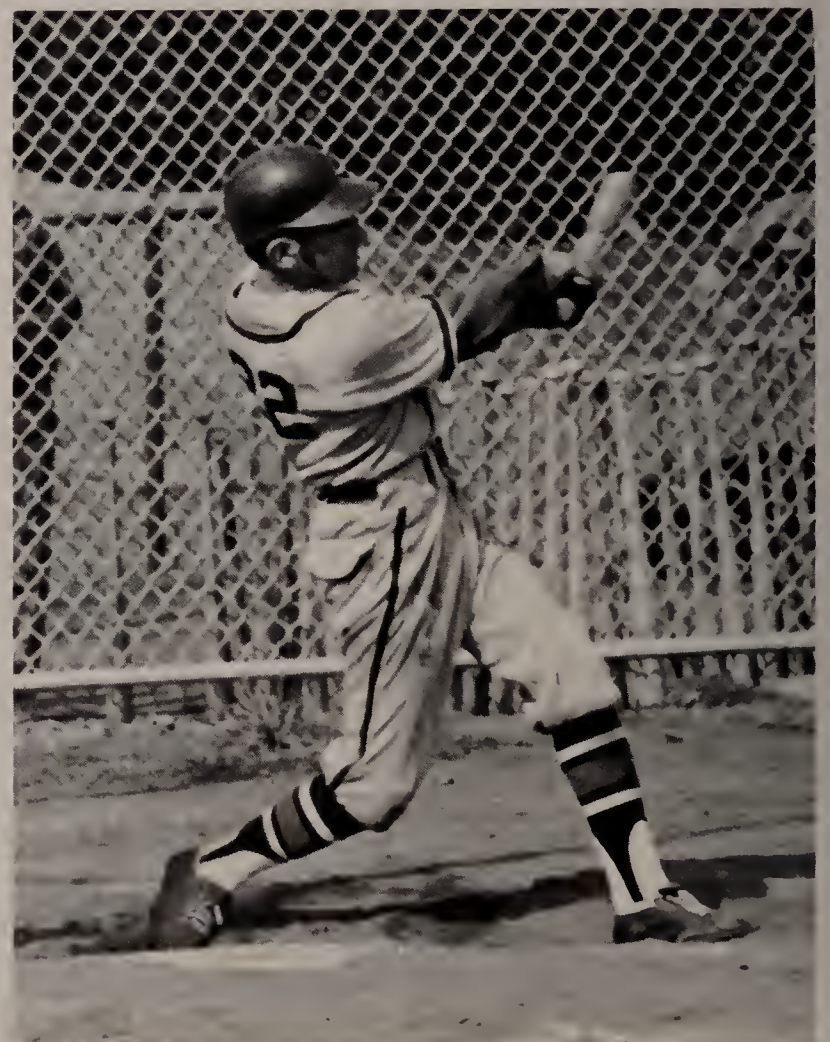

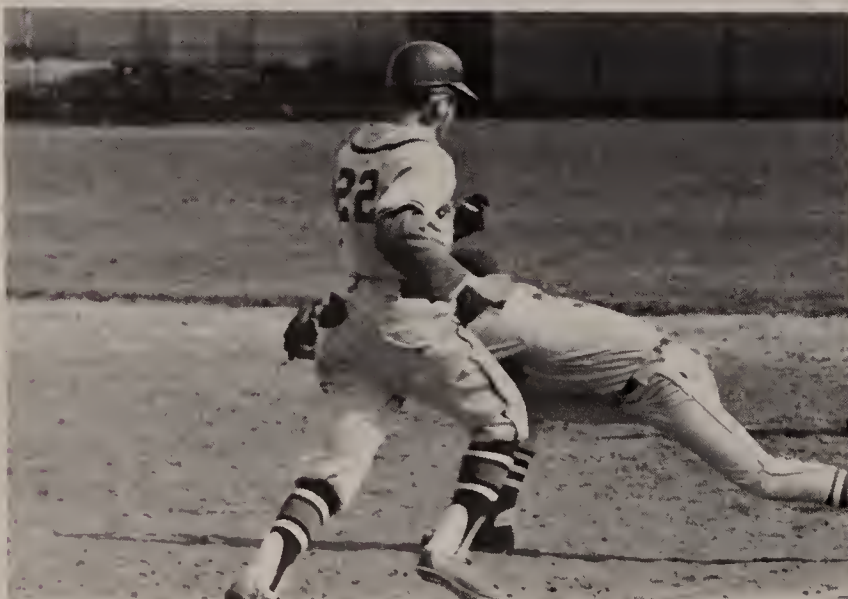

Baseball

The C.H.S. baseball team of 1970 had a great year to look forward to with Co-Captains Richie Carbone and Mark Glenner, and many other great players. Coach Joe Bevere saw to it that the squad possessed a great deal of devotion and determination. These qualities are bound to make for success in the Greater Boston League in the future.

Head Coach, Arnold Goodman, and Assistant Coach Edward Rosa

Basketball

The 1969-70 C.H.S. basketball team played admirably throughout the season. Although not a powerhouse, the team made every game a challenge for its opponents. Coach Arnold Goodman, his able assistant Mr. Edward Rosa, and Captain Anthony Ciamellia deserve a lot of credit for inspiring the players to their utmost ability, and for providing this year's basketball fans with many thrilling moments.

Track

The 1970 Chelsea High School track team gave a very good account of themselves. Facing some of the best teams in the state, the trackmen never folded and made a contest out of every meet. Inspired by Co-Captains James Mugford and Robert Levy, under the supervision of coach Bernard Berenson, the team never lost its enthusiasm and determination. Living up to their traditional spirit, the team kept up the high standards of Chelsea High throughout the season.

Coaches: Bernard M. Berenson; Anthony Bovaro.

Vincent Santilli, John Staples, Michael Lepore, William Brennen, Leonard Marino, Chris Majewski, Robert Botchie.

For the first time in twenty-seven years, Chelsea High School has had a Cross-Country Team. It did surprisingly well for a team without previous experience. Led by Captain Joseph Innes under coach Bernard Berenson, the team never lost its spirit or determination. If the 1969-70 team is any indication, then Cross-Country has a bright future at Chelsea High.

Cheering Squad

With their "Rah! Rah! Rah!" and "Zis boom bah!", the Cheering Squad always stands by the athletes of Chelsea High School. Under the supervision of Miss Beverly Corwin, the cheerleaders have inspired the fans and the students at all times in all kinds of weather and all kinds of fortune.

Girls' Basketball

For the first time in its history Chelsea High School has had a girl's basketball team. Surprisingly, it was one of the most successful teams of the 1969-70 season. Led by Co-Captains Chris Szpuk, Jo-anne Lee and Joan Nevins, under the able coaching of Miss Beverly Corwin, the team was a powerhouse in its league. The way these girls played, they could show their male counterparts a thing or two.

The Chelsea High School majorettes are a group of spirited and talented baton-twirlers who continually delight sports fans with their skillful performances. Under the direction of Miss Beverly Corwin, and Dr. Guido Ottavi, this year's majorettes have practiced hard to deserve the praise they received.

"Do your own thing."

"But I don't want to go among mad people," Alice remarked.

"Oh you can't help that," said the Cat: "we're all mad here. I'm mad. You're mad."

"How do you know I'm mad?" said Alice.

"You must be," said the Cat, "or you wouldn't have come here."

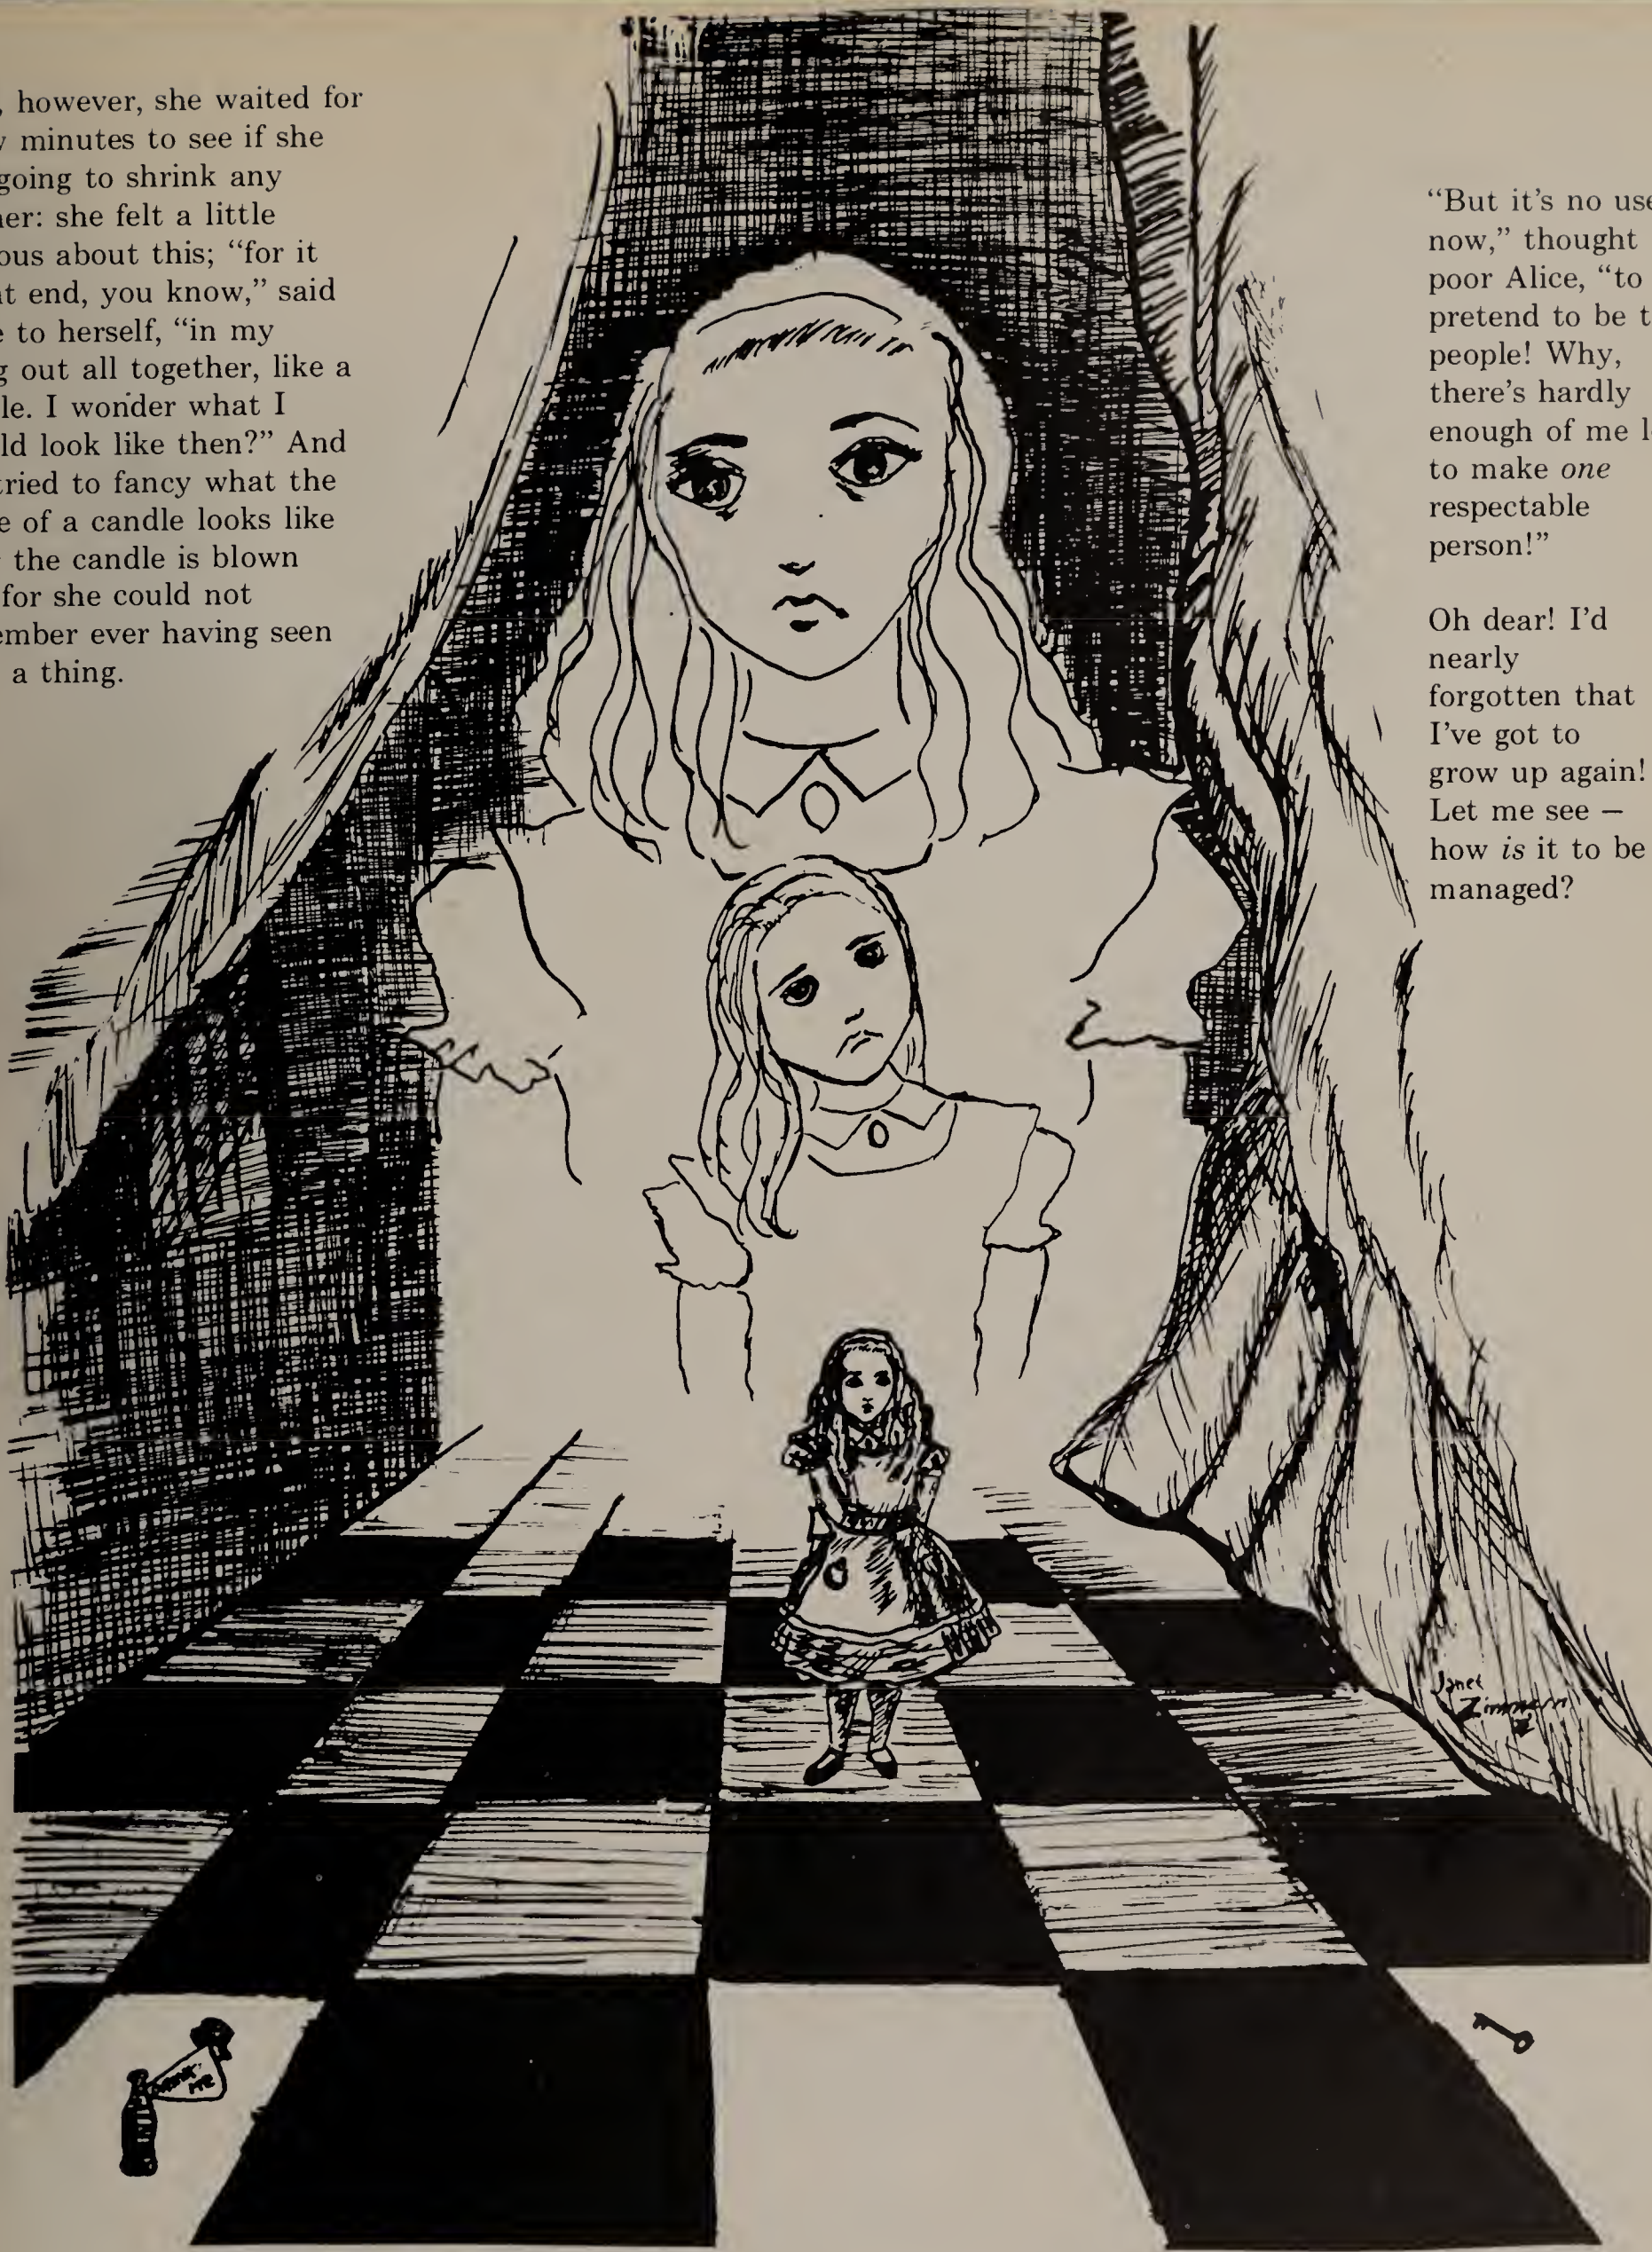

Here one of the guinea pigs cheered, and was immediately suppressed by the officers of the court. (As that is rather a hard word, I will just explain to you how it was done. They had a large canvas bag, which tied up at the mouth with strings; into this they slipped the guinea pig, head first, and then sat upon it.)

First, however, she waited for a few minutes to see if she was going to shrink any further: she felt a little nervous about this; "for it might end, you know," said Alice to herself, "in my going out all together, like a candle. I wonder what I should look like then?" And she tried to fancy what the flame of a candle looks like after the candle is blown out, for she could not remember ever having seen such a thing.

"But it's no use now," thought poor Alice, "to pretend to be two people! Why, there's hardly enough of me left to make one respectable person!"

Oh dear! I'd nearly forgotten that I've got to grow up again! Let me see — how is it to be managed?

A decorative border of black ink line drawings of vines, leaves, and flowers surrounds the text. The vines are stylized with loops and curls, and the leaves are small and pointed. The flowers are simple, with some having multiple petals. The border is symmetrical and fills the top, bottom, and sides of the page.

I

"I almost wish I hadn't gone down that rabbit-hole — and yet — and yet — it's rather curious, you know, this sort of life! I do wonder what can have happened to me! When I used to read fairy tales, I fancied that kind of thing never happened, and now here I am in the middle of one! There ought to be a book written about me, that there ought! And when I grow up, I'll write one — but I'm grown up now," she added in a sorrowful tone: "at least there's no room to grow up any more here."

Senior Thesis

I. Thoughts about the hereafter

(or . . . Is there a life after graduation?)

Seriously, graduation isn't the end, you know. It's just the beginning. And it could be the beginning of one of the most challenging and fulfilling times of your life. At New England Telephone.

It could be, that is, if you want a job with a challenge as big as your ambition. We need people at New England Telephone — all kinds. People who are sincerely interested in the future.

And who are looking for more from their job than just work!

Your starting salary is good and you get automatic raises. You don't need experience! Your advancement is tailored to your talents. And you get excellent fringe benefits.

II. See your Guidance Counselor

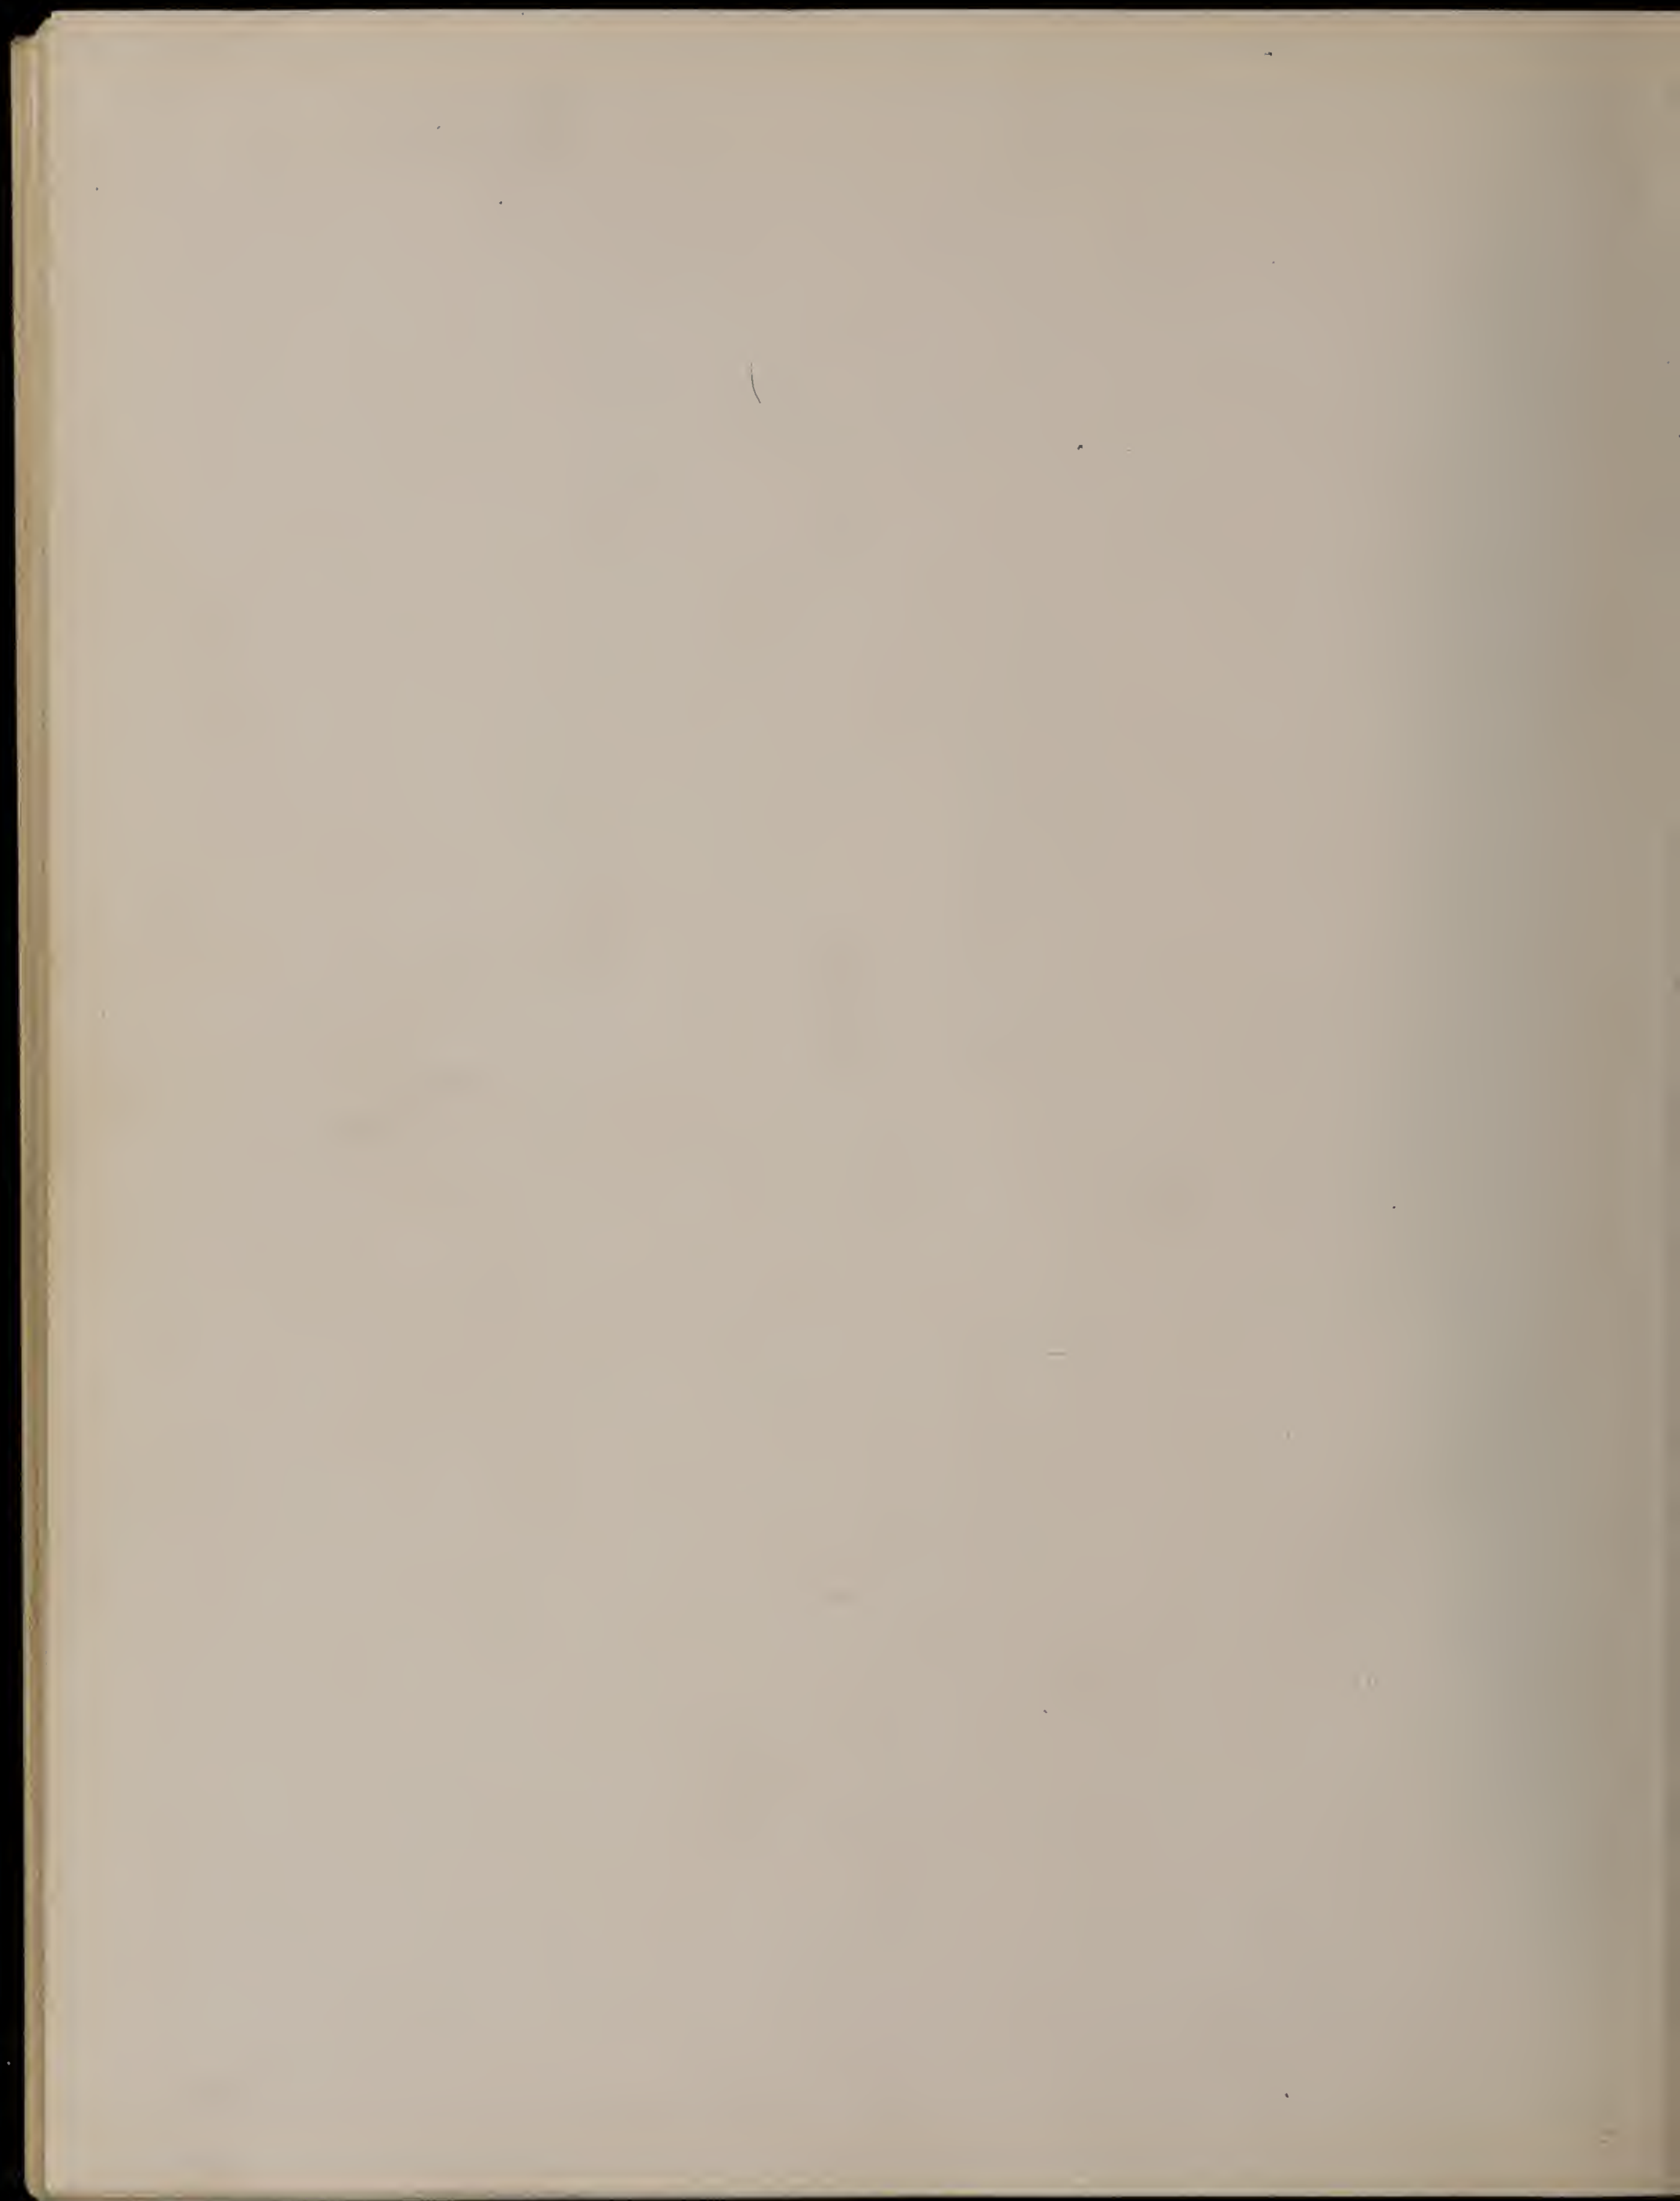

She'll tell you when and where you can apply for an interview to find out what the "hereafter's" like at

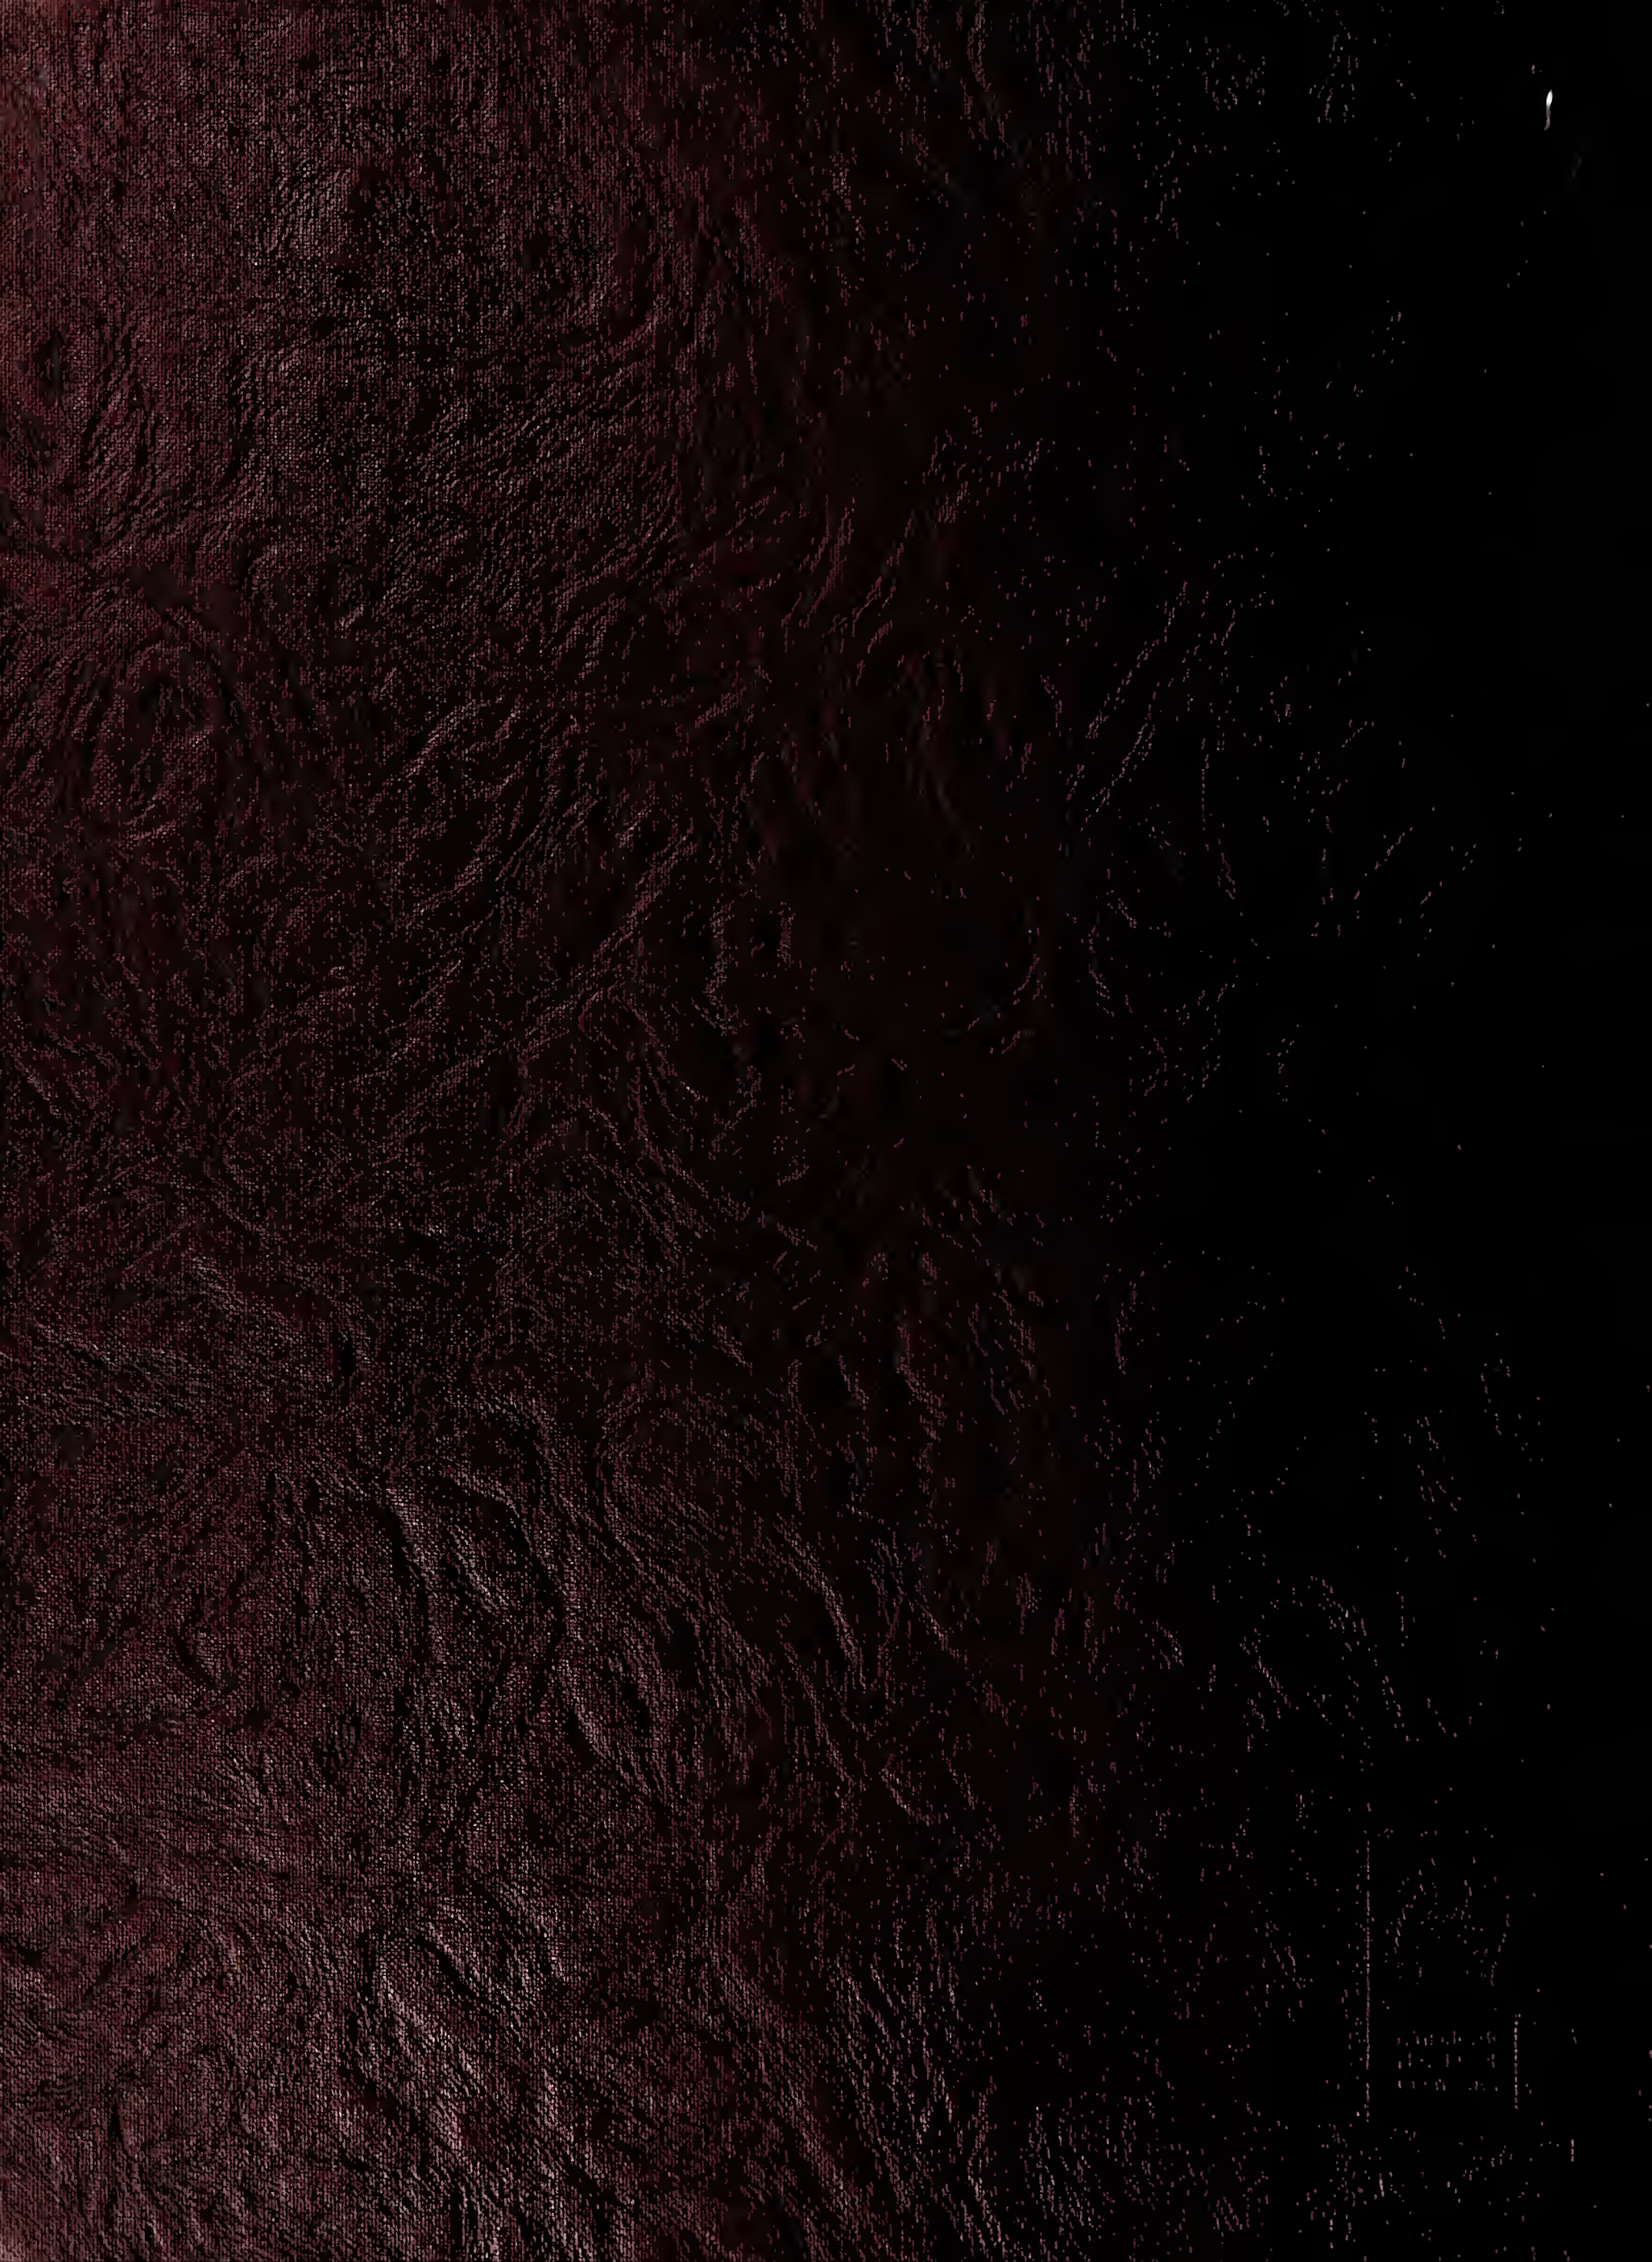

New England
